Technology Transfer

Tech Transfer Process

Basic ISO 13485:2016 Process Verification & Tech Transfer

- Required for all projects
- cGMP documentation and manufacturing
- Includes project manager, Quality Agreement, materials specifications, detailed Bill of Materials, detailed Work Instructions, batch records, change controls

Tech transfer assures that your supply chain is properly documented, specs are in place, and that your product is produced right each and every time. Your documentation is essential to procurement and manufacturing of your product in a cGMP manner. All client production and testing documents related to your project will be your property after we complete tech transfer. We will store and manage all of this for you under change control in our electronic Quality Management System (eQMS), MasterControl. The client will provide all available information and documentation to Argonaut: such as raw material specifications, SOPs, installation and operation qualifications, manufacturing batch records, test protocols, test methods, and product specifications. These documents will be used to generate comprehensive Argonaut documents using Argonaut's documentation control SOPs and Argonaut's quality management system. Argonaut produces audit-ready manufacturing documentation from your existing documents regardless of how formal or complete they are, which requires technical input from our operations team and working closely with the client. The client will review and approve all production and testing related documentation prior to final document approval and any subsequent changes or revisions using Argonaut's quality management system. This is a one-time cost for clients.

Timeline

For planning purposes, assume the following timeline for an average project. All times are averages and may vary depending on Argonaut's current workload and project complexity. Please allow extra time when scheduling end of quarter production dates.

- 6-8 weeks for documentation tech transfer (can overlap with procurement)
- 6-8 weeks for materials procurement and lead time, excluding long lead time materials. There are ways to reduce this time with risk-buy solutions.
- 4 weeks for production scheduling and completion
- In total, ~10-12 weeks assuming overlap of tech transfer and procurement
- Repeat builds are tied to our supply planning activities that we conduct each quarter. Lead times are subject to purchase order coverage.
- Change orders and delays in document approval may delay project completion.

Quality Management System

Argonaut operates in compliance with ISO 13485:2016 (Certificate Number FM 659295) and current Good Manufacturing Practices. Argonaut has registered with the Food and Drug Administration (Registration Number 3013508066) and the State of California Food and Drug Branch (License Number 96492).

All client production and testing documents related to your project will be transferred to Argonaut's electronic Quality Management System (eQMS), MasterControl. Each document will receive a unique identification number. A list will be established to identify the corresponding Argonaut part number for each existing client part number and will be available on ShareFile. The client will transfer the following information and documentation to Argonaut: raw material specifications, SOPs, installation and operation qualifications, manufacturing batch records, test protocols, test methods, and product specifications. These documents will be used to generate equivalent Argonaut documents using Argonaut's documentation control SOPs and Argonaut's quality management system. The client will review and approve all production and testing related documentation prior to final document approval and any subsequent changes or revisions using Argonaut's quality management system. Hard copies (printed, signed pages) of client approvals will be attached to each record in MasterControl.

All equipment at Argonaut is maintained and calibrated per SOP-0020, Equipment Numbering, Maintenance, and Calibration. If required, equipment transferred from the client to Argonaut for use in this project will be requalified at Argonaut at client expense, prior to use, using approved qualification protocols. All equipment provided by the client will be managed per Argonaut's procedures. As needed, new SOPs, specifying calibration, maintenance, and operation will be established at client expense for each piece of new/transferred equipment.

CONFIDENTIAL | This Quote is Valid Until December 31, 2025

Change controls, non-conformances, deviations, and CAPAs will be managed using Argonaut's quality management system and will be available to the client for review. Notification of any discrepancies, deviations, non-conformances, etc. will be relayed to the client per the mutually agreed upon Quality Agreement between the client and Argonaut.
